

VIDEO: Students begin medical school years with annual White Coat Ceremony

WATCH: Click on the video above to watch highlights from this year's White Coat Ceremony. (Video by Ian McLachlan)

Tulane University School of Medicine welcomed 190 new students at the annual White Coat Ceremony held Sunday, July 31, 2022. The event signals the start of the next chapter for first-year medical students. It's a day to celebrate all the hard work it took to get here and honor the journey ahead. Watch the video to see highlights from this year's event.