At 11:00 a.m. CDT on March 15th, 2024, medical students all over the country simultaneously learned where and what they would be training for the next three to seven years. This year, 181 Tulane students matched with residency programs nationwide. 33 students will remain in Louisiana for at least part of their training, 22 of whom are staying at Tulane.

Congratulations, and good luck to the Class of 2024!
