

Tulane to expand downtown campus with research-focused renovation

Barri Bronston

bbronst@tulane.edu

July 23, 2024 9:30 AM

The Hutchinson Memorial and J. Bennett Johnston buildings are aglow in Tulane green during a ceremonial lighting celebrating Tulane's historic transformation of the downtown campus. (Photo by Tyler Kaufman)

Tulane University continues to expand its footprint in the heart of New Orleans with its largest downtown project to date — renovation of the Hutchinson Memorial Building, home to the Tulane

School of Medicine since 1930. Read more about the project here.