Two long-serving members of the Office of Admissions and Student Affairs were recently recognized by L. Lee Hamm, MD, Senior Vice President and Dean, for their remarkable dedication to Tulane University School of Medicine. Melissa Riley, a student records specialist, has been part of the School of Medicine for 30 years, and Kim Melerine, a program coordinator, has served for 26 years. Together, their combined 56 years of service reflect a deep commitment to supporting students and advancing the school's mission. Congratulations to Melissa and Kim, and thank you for the invaluable contributions you make every day.
