

From WWL-TV: Tulane cardiac team brings man back to life

From WWL-TV November 25, 2025 12:37 PM

A Mississippi man has much to be thankful for this year. Doctors at a small hospital on the North Shore thought Benny Nunez was brain-dead after experiencing heart failure. The physicians reached out to the Tulane Interventional Cardiology team at East Jefferson General Hospital, a group that came to New Orleans earlier this year to restart the transplant and advanced heart failure program. That team never gave up on Benny. Read more from WWL-TV here.