

Program in Medical Ethics and Human Values

J. Richard Williams Sr, MD 1931 Lecture

*Presented by
The Program in Medical Ethics and Human Values,
Tulane University School of Medicine*

Tuesday January 26, 2021

12:00 – 1:00 pm

A Zoom Presentation

“Maintaining Spirituality During A Pandemic”

Meeting ID: <https://tulanehipaa.zoom.us/j/95681578838>

The Covid-19 Pandemic has tested patients, families and healthcare workers’ spirituality. This panel will focus on the methods used by New Orleans Spiritual Care leaders to maintain immunity for resilience, well-being, and the core of the human psyche during a pandemic.

Speaker: Rev.
Abina Johnson

Speaker: Rev.
Anthony De
Conciliis

Speaker: Fr.
Kevin B Dyer

Moderator:
Dr. Sonia
Malhotra

Rev. Abina Johnson, M.Div. BCC, is the Manager of Clinical Pastoral Education at University Medical Center New Orleans, ACPE Certified Educator, a board-certified chaplain, and an ordained minister with the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship.

Fr. Kevin B. Dyer, SJ is a chaplain at Jesuit High School in New Orleans, Louisiana. He served as a chaplain at University Medical Center from March to May of 2020.

Rev. Anthony De Conciliis, C.S.C., Ph.D. is a member of the Congregation of Holy Cross. After a career in higher education as a faculty member and administrator, he was invited to develop an Institute at Ochsner Health, the Institute of Medicine, Education, and Spirituality.

Dr. Sonia Malhotra is an Associate Professor of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics and leads the Palliative Medicine and Supportive Care program for UMCNO/Tulane SOM where she serves on the hospital Ethics Committee and is faculty for The Master’s in Bioethics program

TULANE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Please RSVP by email: tofengenden@tulane.edu