Tulane University Health Sciences Center awarded Accreditation with Commendation

(July 25, 2016) - Tulane University Health Sciences Center has been resurveyed by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) and awarded Accreditation with Commendation for six (6) years as a provider of continuing medical education for physicians.

“We are very pleased that Tulane CCE has upheld its status of Accreditation with Commendation acknowledging Tulane’s compliance with all 19 criteria!” said Melinda Epperson, director.

The ACCME employs a rigorous, multilevel process for evaluating institutions' continuing medical education programs according to the high accreditation standards adopted by all seven ACCME member organizations. These organizations of medicine in the US are the American Board of Medical Specialties, the American Hospital Association, the American Medical Association, the Association for Hospital Medical Education, the Association of American Medical Colleges, the Council of Medical Specialty Societies, and the Federation of State Medical Boards of the US, Inc.

ACCME accreditation seeks to assure the medical community and the public that Tulane University Health Sciences Center provides physicians with relevant, effective, practice-based continuing medical education that supports US health care quality improvement.

About Tulane University Center for Continuing Education (CCE): Tulane University Center for Continuing Education is part of Tulane University’s downtown, health sciences campus and is currently celebrating over 40 years of dedicated lifelong learning. For more information, please contact CCE at cme@tulane.edu or 504-988-5466.