Ask your partnership questions here

The announcement about Tulane's partnership with LCMC was just the first step towards improving healthcare for our New Orleans community. Our leadership teams will work together in the coming weeks, months and years as we make plans to move forward and expand our medical, resident and clinical research programs while driving educational and economic innovation and growth that improves the quality of life across our entire region. We will continue to keep the SoM community informed and involved in these discussions.

From our town halls last week we know many of you have questions, and we are here to answer them as best we can. Based on your feedback so far, we are compiling a FAQ to address your commonly asked questions and we will update it as any new topics arise. We encourage you to continue sharing questions with us in person or submit them here.
