Ogola named AAMC MOSAIC Scholar

Benard Ogola, PhD, a postdoctoral fellow at Tulane University School of Medicine, has been named a Maximizing Opportunities for Scientific and Academic Independent Careers (MOSAIC) Scholar by the National Institute of General Sciences. He was also selected as a scholar of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

The AAMC MOSAIC program is designed to enhance diversity in the academic biomedical workforce and facilitate the transition of postdoctoral researchers who have been traditionally underrepresented in the biomedical and related fields. Read more here.
